Danubius Young Scientist Award 2020

Background

The Danubius Award was created in 2011 by the Austrian Federal Ministry for Education, Science and Research (BMBWF) and the Institute for the Danube Region and Central Europe (IDM) with the intention to honor persons with extraordinary achievements in their scientific activity and output in relation to the Danube Region.

The Award

In 2020, this award will be complemented for the seventh time, with a specific price for young scientists – the „Danubius Young Scientist Award“. This award will be granted to 14 young scientists - one in each country that is part of the EU Strategy for the Danube Region [Austria, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Croatia, Czech Republic, Germany, Hungary, Moldova, Montenegro, Serbia, Slovak Republic, Slovenia, Romania and the Ukraine].

The award seeks to highlight the scientific work and talent of young researchers and enhance the visibility of the scientific community in the region. Moreover, the award encourages young scientists to engage in the scientific examination of the multifaceted issues and questions specifically related to the Danube Region.

The award will be endowed with 1,200 Euros for each winner of the Danubius Young Scientist Award.

Danubius Young Scientist Award 2020

Selection Process

Candidates for the Danubius Young Scientist Award can come from all scientific disciplines.

The nomination of the award candidate cannot be made by the candidate himself/herself but he/she has to be nominated by their hosting scientific organization (university, academy of sciences, research organization etc.)

The number of nominations per organization is limited to three, meaning every university, academy of sciences or research organization etc. can nominate up to a maximum of three candidates in total. However, the three candidates have to come from different faculties or departments, institutes or research groups within the organization (so please ensure an internal coordination in your organization e.g. via the rectorate or management).

An international expert jury will be established that will be responsible for assessing all incoming nominations and for determining a final ranking list. The highest ranked candidate from each country of the EU Strategy for the Danube Region will be recommended for the award.

The award ceremony will take place in the context of the Annual Meeting of the Danube Rectors' Conference in Uschgorod (Ukraine) on 5th of November 2020.

Moreover, thanks to the ongoing kind support by the JRC, the awardees will be invited by the European Commission's Joint Research Centre to visit the JRC in Ispra, Italy in 2021.
